"We create early learning programs that preserve a child’s culture and language, while advancing African indigenous parenting practices and community-driven narratives."
About Us

Founded in December of 2012, Voices of Tomorrow works closely with community partners to eliminate racial inequities in the Early Learning System, which deeply affect Immigrant and Refugee children’s growth, development, and academic performances. Early childhood is the most critical phase of human development, and the focus of Voices of Tomorrow.

Voices of Tomorrow is a premiere, contemporary bilingual and bicultural preschool program situated in the Pacific Northwest.

“First my VOT home visitor, then the VOT preschool teacher spoke Somali with Fatima and me. This inspired me to speak Somali with all of my children. Fatima now talks with me in Somali, counts to 20, and sings songs. It is amazing to see her teaching her older siblings. It makes us proud and stronger as a family.”

Iftin Hagimohamed
Chief Financial Officer

Iftin Hagimohamed is a visionary, blessed with foresight to co-found Voices of Tomorrow and manage the challenges of organizational development. Iftin has spearheaded the creation of many policies that help Seattle families and children in which the Seattle Preschool program is a major success that is still flourishing today. As an adolescent Iftin and her family were forced to flee a war-torn country. Her family struggled to be safe, to eat and to re-establish themselves. Seeing her parents struggle, and the trauma of the civil war molded her into the woman she is today. Iftin values freedom, access, justice, and equality and thrives in supporting the most vulnerable and voiceless. Iftin is the step mother of 3 beautiful boys, she wakes up daily intending to make the world better for them and the rest of the children in the world.
